DAY IN THE COURTS

NEXT WEEK IS JURY WEEK IN THE FIFTY-FIFTH DISTRICT COURT.

Case of Borden & Antill vs. Moore Cortez Canal Co., Aiter a Week's Hearing, Taken Under Advisement.

Beginning tomorrow will be the first jury week of the March term of the Fifty-fifth week are of any special importance or prominence, nor do they embrace anything but general legislation. The docket for the week, however, is a very full one, and the probabilities are that Judge Wilson will have his hands full and be worked hard to keep the docket cleared.

The case of Borden & Antill et al 78, the Moore-Cortex Canal Company, which has been on trial before Judge Wilson, the trial of which was begun last Wednesday, was closed, so far as the hearing of tentimony and of the argument is concerned mony and of the argument is concerned, resterday, Judge Wilsen took the case under advisement and may hand down his decision in it ar almost any time. This case is of considerable importance fo the rice industry, involving, as it does, the liability of a contractor contracting to irrigate rice inde. The suit is based on the alleged falling of the contracting irrigator to carry out his part of the contract, and as a result the alleged destruction of the crop of rice which was to be watered.

Tuesday will be motion day in the Eleventh judicial district court. That is. the motion decket of this term will be the motion decaset of this term will be called and motions for new trinis, etc. will be heard. It is nearing the close of the present term of the Eleventh district court, and uniters pending in it will be closed up this week and next. Judge Ashe is working bard, and when net on the bench can be found in his private office reading up and preparing the cases before him.

This will be another Jury week for the county court. The jury for the week will be impaneled and sworn, but Judge Vas-mer hardly thinks it will be needed all the week. It is very probable that the jury will be discharged for the term on Wednes-day or Thursday.

LECTURE FOR NON CATHOLICS

Will Commence a Week Earlier Than Originally Contemplated. The lectures for non-Catholics in the Church of the Annunciation will begin a week earlier than announced in the published cards. That is, the first lecture will be on the evening of Sunday, April 6, and will continue every evening until Sunday April 13, except Saturday, the 12th. The ing the salvation of their souls at heari. Christ sent the apostles to reach all haltons. The nations they were commissioned to teach were non-Cathonies. The Paulist Fathers, animated by the apostelle spirit, go forth to preach especially to non-Cathonies. Without bitterness or makindness they devote their energies to an apostolic exposition of Christian truths.

Non-Catholies are cordinily invited to attend these loctures. The pews will be free and no collections will be taken up. Ushers will meet visitors at the door and see them comfortably seated. Catholies see them comfortably seated. Catholics will be admitted only when accompanied by non-Catholics should exert all their efforts to secure the attendance of their non-Catholic pairshops attendance of their non-Catholic pairshops attendance of their non-Catholic pairshops attendance of their non-and will be a question box in the vestibule of the church, where these so discussed may drop questions to be answered a the following evening.

Finally, the people of the Anaunciation hunch carnestly desire and request non-atholics to give the Fathers a hearing, with the full conviction that they will be received and pleased.

Freeman Wishes to Know. To the Editor of The Post.

I see in Friday morning's issue a call by Mr. Brown, county chairman, to republican voters, saying that in all probability there would be a republican candidate for mayor and that one had been selected, but Mr. Brown is not just ready to give his name, and advising the republicans to register so that they might vote when the time comes. So far as registering, it is all right that all should register, as I have said to my people on every occasion; but I am chairman of the republican executive committee and Charles De Gaultle is secretary and neither of us knows of any republican or any man who is preparing to place himself as republican candidate for mayor to be slaughtered.

Who is that great statesman who is willing to place his name upon the ticket at this time? While going to and fro on the street today I have been stopped and asked what this all means and if I knew anything about it. It is up to Mr. Browns and not to the colored republicans, but I want my people to register just the same as it is their duty.

H. M. Freeman, Chairman. Mr. Brown is not just ready to give his

"Beginning with this issue of the directory we are giving the population by actual count, the figures appearing after the names throughout the book indicate the nomber in each family outside of whose names are enumerated. The sum total of these gives Housten a population of 58,238. The ratio to each name based on this actual count gave a population of 51,263 in 1800, the canvass having been made in the appring of that rear, thus showing an increase of 6257 in less than two years.

"According to the ratio used by directory publishers throughout the country, three is each name, Houston would show a population of 3 x 29,201, or 37,783.
